"Winners of this year's Cloudys awards run the gamut from IP telephony to shifting a customer's entire IT infrastructure into the cloud," said Lorna Garey, Editor-in-Chief of Channel Partners. "We have cloud brokers, desktop and backup as service providers, and more. This program recognizes the array of business-focused cloud offerings that partners are delivering, and we were pleased to invite our innovators to share success stories with first-time Cloud Partners attendees."

The Cloudys Awards were open to VARs, MSPs, agents, integrators and consultants. To determine the Cloudy winners, providers completed an application that asked them to demonstrate how they are used innovative cloud solutions to help customers grow their businesses.
